SUBJECT: SIG Meeting on U.S.-Latin American Relations -
Post-Falklands

SUMMARY OF CONCLUSIONS

The SIG convened to discuss the draft policy study on U.S. relations with Latin America in the post-Falklands environment. No policy decisions were proposed or taken. In response to an outline of the study by Ambassador Enders, OSD and JCS emphasized the importance of continued military-to-military contacts and an appropriate arms transfer policy. OVP and ICA stressed a more active public affairs program. AID and Treasury stressed economic development and banking aspects of our policy. NSC recommended a more detailed treatment of Venezuela, Colombia, Honduras, and of U.S. objectives. Under Secretary Buckley addressed the arms transfer issue, noting that U.S. policy is based on global considerations and must not subordinate case-by-case treatment of requests solely to regional considerations. Existing arms transfer guidelines could if necessary accommodate a more vigorous policy than has been pursued to date, but the matter of legislative changes in authority was delicate and would require planning. Chairman Eagleburger wanted the study strengthened in its relation of Latin American to global policies and its analysis of Soviet opportunities for mischief. The SIG discussion amplified these points and recommended a number of changes in the draft study.

ACTION REQUIREMENTS

1. Additions and deletions as discussed in the SIG will be tasked to the drafting bureau in State and submitted to the IG. It was agreed that a number of annexes or new sections to the paper were necessary.

2. In due course, an issues paper will be prepared for SIG review and forwarding to the NSC of any issues requiring decision at that level.
